SEATTLE REIGN FC 2 RACING LOUISVILLE FC 1

ONE Spokane Stadium – March 28, 2026 – 3:30 p.m. PT – Attendance: 3,879

- AGE IS JUST A NUMBER: Seattle's starting XI had an average age of 24.9 years, marking the club's youngest starting lineup of the 2026 season. At 18, Ainsley McCammon was the youngest player in the XI.
- DRAFT CLASS OF 2024: Reign FC selected both Sam Meza (17th overall) and Maddie Mercado (27th overall) in the 2024 NWSL Draft, the league's last draft. The pair combined on the opening goal in the 10th minute, with Meza assisting Mercado.
- FORM IN THE FIRST HALF: Through four matches, Seattle has scored a league-leading six first-half goals, including five at ONE Spokane Stadium. The club tallied two more first-half goals today after scoring once in the season opener (March 15 at Orlando) and three against Kansas City on March 25.
- HOME STREAK CONTINUES: Seattle extended its home unbeaten run to nine games (6W, 3D), dating back to August 1, 2025. It marks the club's longest home unbeaten streak since a 12-game run from June 2018 to June 2019 (7W, 5D).
- CLAUDIA DICKEY: Claudia Dickey recorded five saves, bringing her NWSL regular season career total to 187 saves and tying Hope Solo for the club record.
- AINSLEY McCAMMON: Ainsley McCammon recorded her first NWSL assist on Nerilia Mondesir's goal, becoming the youngest player in club history to register an assist at 18 years old.
- MADDIE MERCADO: Mercado opened the scoring in the 10th minute, marking Seattle's earliest goal of the 2026 season. She has now scored in back-to-back matches and has three goals in her NWSL career.

- SERIES: With today's result, Reign FC improves to 5-1-6 against Racing Louisville FC across all competitions.
- UP NEXT: Reign FC (3-1-0, 9 points) wraps up its three-game home stretch at ONE Spokane Stadium, taking on Denver Summit FC (1-1-2, 5 points) on Saturday, April 4 (5:45 p.m. PT / ION).
