MATCHUP HISTORY

The Spirit holds a 13-13-8 all-time record in matches played against Seattle Reign FC with a -4 goal differential (41-45). Included in this record is a 12-11-7 regular season record with a -1 goal differential (38-39). Not included in either record is a 0-3 forfeit loss for the Spirit in 2021. Washington is currently on its best win streak against Seattle in club history, winning each of the last four meetings including a 2-0 win in DC last September and a 1-0 win in Seattle earlier this month thanks to a late game-winning goal from Claudia Martínez. With a win on Saturday, the Spirit can become just the second club in league history to win five straight over Seattle. In the past 12 total meetings, the Spirit holds a 9-1-2 record against Seattle, earning the most wins in the league against a single opponent across that span. After taking the competitive regular season lead with its 1-0 away win earlier this month, Washington can take the lead in the overall series with Reign FC for the first time since the series began in 2013 with a win this weekend.

DOING WELL IN THE DISTRICT

Across its last 17 matches at Audi Field, the Spirit has earned at least a point in 15 contests with ten wins and five draws (one draw being the quarterfinal penalty shootout win over Louisville). Washington has won two straight home matches as well with a 4-0 win over Kansas City and 1-0 win over Louisville last month.

EVERYBODY EATS

In the month of May, five different Spirit players tallied at least three goal contributions led by midfielder Leicy Santos with four. Forwards Sofia Cantore, Rosemonde Kouassi, Claudia Martínez and Trinity Rodman have all provided three goal contributions this month, marking the first time in Spirit history and sixth time in league history that five different players on one team have accomplished this feat in a single calendar month.

Washington Spirit Announces Earliest Sellout in Club History

Washington, D.C. (05/19/2026) - The Washington Spirit has sold out its May 30 match against Seattle Reign FC, the club announced today. The sellout comes a full 11 days before the match, the earliest the Spirit has ever announced a sellout.

Washington has now sold out all three of their weekend home matches this season with 19,215 announced against Portland & Kansas City, the quickest the club has gotten to three sellouts in club history. Next Saturday's match will also match the most sellouts in a single season in club history at three with at least ten home contests to go in 2026. The club previously sold out three matches in each of the 2024 and 2025 seasons. The Spirit has now sold out five of the past seven matches at Audi Field, with both playoff matches last season drawing a full stadium.

The Spirit will now have had 20 of its top 24 home attendance marks in club history since the start of the 2024 season. This also marks the Spirit's ninth sellout in under two calendar years since the club-record attendance of 19,897 on June 15, 2024. Last season, the Spirit became only the fourth women's soccer club in the world to average over 15,000 fans per match, seeing nearly 237,000 people come through the gates at Audi Field.

The May 30 match will welcome the Spirit back to Audi Field for the first time in over a month for Spirit Rising Youth Night, a matchday celebration built around the next generation of Spirit fans, with youth-themed experiences throughout the stadium, against Seattle Reign FC. It will be the last time to see the Spirit at Audi until the club returns from the league-wide June break on Friday, July 3 against...
